“ My aunt Sandra is one of my favorite people. I looked at her as the sister I always wanted. She is one of the strongest people I have ever known. She loved life and worked hard to live it. I am so thankful to have so many happy memories of her and even happier that my husband and kids will have memories of her. I pray my aunt Sandra is in heaven doing all the things she has wanted to do for such a long time with all the people she missed so much. We will all be together again one day. I love you always!

“ In honor of my baby sister, Sandra's One of a kind, with her intelligence shining through. I asked Sandra before Thanksgiving who has had the best life of the 10 siblings. She said she has. Sandra' s goal was to make the 25 year anniversary of her heart transplant and she did! She wanted to continue crocheting. She had the desire to get the rest of the story. She needed all the facts. It was a lifelong venture, including taking 35 years to get these facts and she did, one year ago. Sandra will be truly missed be everyone who ever had the opportunity to meet her and love her. Love, her brother Walter

“ Sandra's beautiful blue eyes, curly blonde hair and adorable chubby cheeks stand out in my mind. Always willing to jump in trying to find an answer for loved ones during difficult times. I will always treasure our deep, heartfelt conversations. Our unique sense of humor wasn't lost on each other. She continues to amaze me with her joy for life. To months before Sandra went to be with the Lord she dreamed she was walking, doing normal things. I can see Sandra now, pirouetting effortlessly as the beautiful ballerina she always wanted to be. I will love and treasure you always, Little Sister. Love, Lynn, John, Jonathan and Melanie

“ An angel on earth left us Friday 2/19/21 to become an angel in heaven. More than one heart was broken when Sandra took her last breath and left for a one-way trip to be with others she loved and lost before her. Sandra was a fighter, and the strongest person I've ever known. I often thought of her as the family matriarch because most of us turned to her for advice and help through the years. Sandra was giving, loving, and family was the most important thing to her.

Sandra was not only survived by her husband, Dondi Hyde, she left behind two brothers, Walter and John, and three sisters, Lynn, Sheryl and Joanne, and many many nieces, nephews, cousins and friends. I was her sister by marriage and had the privilege of knowing Sandra for over 40 years. We took many trips together to Shands Hospital in Gainesville. I will never forget those long rides where we talked until we ran out of words and stopped to enjoy a nice dinner before going home.

Soft spoken, calm, full of wisdom and advice, kind, while suffering silently and your smile will be the things I remember and miss most about you Sandra. I will see you again, sister.

Love,
Debbie Wallace

“ Sandra is shining light in this dark world. She is a Hero and a Warrior. Sandra will remain the smartest person I have ever known. She is kind and compassionate and loves her family to a fault. She is a cancer survivor at 12, a heart transplant recipient at 30 and the glue that holds us all together. Sandra does not complain, even when she is experiencing Migraine headaches or limitations surrounding her mobility. She is and always will be a gentle fragile spirit with bold displays of Love that will always surround us and hug us. She is number 9 of 10 children and always takes it upon herself to make sure everyone feels loved and cherished. Thank you so much little sister for being you. All my Love always. Sandra and I frequently end out texts. Love you. Me. I mean it Sandra. Love you. Me. I will write again once I feel a little more grounded. I can't thank you enough for fighting so hard to stay with us here, instead of continuing on your journey to greatness. God Bless you always. Sheryl, Kevin, Keith and Christopher.
